SYMBOLS DICTIONARY

PART 1

Messages from Guides and those that have passed are very often sent through symbols, scenes and pictures. Sharing the string of symbols and images is often called a reading but when you are doing this for yourself, it's called a message or answer to your question!

There is a video and ongoing trainings and exercises within this program to help you learn to see and get used to how you have visions in particular.

This dictionary is to help you start learning the symbolism and beginning to understand how your Guides communicate with you. You can have an agreement to have certain symbols mean certain things.

With Master Moment Makers, it is an understanding that the Dictionary of Symbols provided here will get you started on understanding your messages from your Guides!

BUT... If one of these symbols does not resonate for you and you know with certainty it means something else for you, then that is what you should use as the interpretation.

AND IMPORTANT: Try to remember that your glossary for images and colors is a springboard for further intuitive investigation!

While doing meditations as a Master Moment Maker, you should use these symbols as your base to start interpreting messages and answers from your guides!
